"There are many reasons for the requirement that the grower agree to co-operate next year. Among them is the fact that the constitutionality of the Bankhead act is being attacked in the courts.

Decision This Fall.

"The supreme court will probably decide that question this fall. While the attorneys representing the government are of the opinion that its constitutionality will be sustained, still if they are in error and the court should hold the act unconstitutional, the department would then have the agreements in exchange for bounty payments, which would make possible the continuation of the effort to reduce the carry-over toward normal proportions.

"Without the ability to control production, no man can justify a 10-cent loan.

All Get Share.

"A very important feature of the new program is that whenever a check is given to the grower for his county or adjustment payment, he will be asked to sign an agreement to pay each producer, share tenant, share cropper or other person having an interest in the cotton, the amount of such interest.

The adjustment

"The adjustment payments to farmers will apply to all sales of this year's crop, dating back to the first day of the crop year, August 1. Therefore, would simply encourage him to dump WALKER WILL LEAVE loan price and 12 cents. To permit any man to receive in excess of this would simply encourage him to dump his cotton at any price and destroy the whole program."

Senator Byrnes said that, contrary to the original plan, the program now in force under the 10-cent loan provides for the adjustment payment to farmers to be made throughout the cotton year, or until next July 31.

"There is therefore no excuse for our farmers to dump cotton should it go below 10 cents. They have only to borrow 10 cents and hold their product." he said.

The Commodity Credit Corporation, he said, now holds 4,450,678 bales of cotton. In addition there is under control of the government what is known as nool cotton, amounting to around 600,000 bales. The government is going to withhold this cotton from the market until the prices reaches 13 cents. That means that the available American supply will be limited to the relatively small amount of cotton which is abroad and in the bands of spinners, and the crop which is made this year."

Reasons for Loan.

"Thave never believed that we could present sound arguments for a 12-cent loan policy as a permanent cotton program. The loan program was inaugurated in an emergency and with the expectation that it would continue only during the emergency. It was made necessary because in 1932 and 1933 our carry-over of cotton increased to such a figure at a time when the demand was decreased, that cotton sold at 5 cents per pound. We knew that we could not continue to produce cotton upon an unrestricted acreage and ever expect any receivery of the purchasing power of the south."

President W. C. Weldon presided at the meeting. The association several years ago decided to stick to one-variety cotton and since then the plan has grown until today many parts of Spalding, Butts. Upson, Pike, Henry and other neighboring counties grow only the one variety of cotton.

only the one variety of cotton.

The variety is a long staple, brings a premium on the market, and Georgia cotton mills buy the entire output. At noon a barbecue was served to about 700 persons.

Experts from the State College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture were among speakers at the meeting.

Loy E. Rast, director of soil conservation service in the state, told Orchard Hill planters and visitors to "stick by your one-variety program"

"stick by your one-variety program and you'll reap a rich reward." Orchard Hill farmers already have enjoyed extra payments missed by other communities because of the oneother communities because of the one-variety program, Rast stated. Orchard Hill was the first in the state to adopt the plan, Rast said, in 1931. Harry L. "In the past these were paid for by her exports and through the re-mittance of her emigrants, especially in the United States, and through the expenditure of foreign visitors to Italy. But owing to foreign restrictions, these sources of income have been greatly diminished. Now, in order to purchase from abroad the raw materials she requires, she has to buy with the lira a great deal of foreign currency. If she had colonies as Belgium, a country in a similar position to herself has, she would be able to pay for her purchases in her own currency, and it would not be necessary, as it now is, to keep the lira artificially high. She has always hoped that without conquest she might obtain in Abyssinia economic concessions for commercial develop-ment. Run-Around But the facts are that about a week ago Italy asked this government pointedly that negotiations be speeded up. The Italian premier is apparently in a hurry to buy materials which may not be barred by the neutrality resolution. Also his suspi-child, cions must have been aroused. very hard."

Tape Officials do not ordinarily get excited about a little red tape. They accept it as an inevitable part of government. But even the most hardened among them blanched in the soil erosion service the other day when a letter was received from a field manager, reading something like this:

"Why is it that we cannot get the scraper we ordered last spring? When I was there in April, I was told you were studying specifications. I was again given the same story in June. I suppose if I came there now would still be the same."

It would. It would.

Note—The soil erosion crowd will deny it, but several thousand men in the field are working at less than half efficiency because they have been unable to get proper tools. Supplies for the bureau are bought to have overlooked many difficult been unable to get proper tools. Supplies for the bureau are through its own purchasing agency and not through the people's pro-curement system, which buys for most of the emergency works activities.

Labor The A. F. of L. is involved in another warm inside scrap about craft unionism. There will be trouble about it at the coming convention.

When the executive council met recently, United Mine Worker John Lewis and Machinist Arthur Wharton shook fingers at each other's noses about the issue. Wharton, who is a bantam, went to the extent of inviting Heavyweight Lewis outside. Lewis did not go, which was lucky Lewis lost out in the executive council by a large vote, but it may be different at the convention. Note-William Green will undoubtedly be re-elected A. F. of L. president without difficulty. There is no particular sentiment for him, also none against him.

Promotion A memo urging revival of the NRA has been put into private circulation by the National Catholic Welfare Council. It sets forth at some length the existing economic situation and advises more than temporarily remedial measures. Specifically, it urges the convening of a congress of leaders of thought in industry, labor, government, and law to discuss ways and means of restoring at least the major social features of NRA. The Rev. John Ryan, liberal churchman, is supposed to be behind it.

The New Dealers probably will await the outcome of pending legal cases before trying anything like that.

Trouble in Paradise Dr. Tugwell is having labor troubles. His rural resettlement subdivision of the agriculture department, ensconced in the most elegant mansion in town being threatened with a strike because he dropped one of his staff members, Dr. William Zeuch, of the economic development division.

It seems that some of Dr. Zeuch's friends in the bureau are members of the American Federation of Government Employes. They are making an issue of the dismissal. A group has called on his immediate superiors, also on Dr. Tugwell. All the brain truster would tell them was: are certain things in the records that I cannot reveal which led to this

Unionists are threatening to carry the issue to the White House. Finances One reason why you hear less of Father Coughlin these is not coming in as rapidly as formerly. This explains the abandonment

cions must have been aroused. Informal talks about the treaty were started months ago, but nothing ever happens about it. Furthermore, Italy has been having considerable difficulty arranging credits and the government here has decided Italy is not a very good risk just now.

Unfortunately for Mussolini, the trade treaty situation is in charge of Assistant State Secretary Sayre. He happens to be on his vacation. When he returns he will undoubtedly have to give his first attention to when one is assistant secretary of state, especially when one wants to attend to other things.

Meanwhile the official explanation of the treaty situation is that "we are working on it." That is an impregnable explanation. It is true, but for complete accuracy it should be added that "we are not working had 11, on the ground that only three leader. Mrs. Mathew Kenny, who has had 11, on the ground that only three

The world series regulations are a marvel of foresight, providing for almost every contingency which might arise on a baseball field, but have been found defective, nevertheless, in a couple of instances. It is not to be wondered at therefore, that Mr. Millar, having the prepared expresses of siled to any prepared expresses of a field to any

For one thing he neglected to stipu-late how long a baby must live in this world, if at all, in order to be con sidered eligible. This may have seem ed unimportant, or may not even have occurred to him, but already one lady is disputing another contestant's score on the ground that certain of het children did not survive the doubtful privilege of being born into a world of war, want and temptation as markers in a sporting event. In the end it may be necessary to go to the courts for a ruling and for the courts to go to the philosophers and the clergy for guidance. Such a dispute would man the nobility of the contest, but $500, 000 is no trifling prize and a lady who has gone through the extreme personal inconvenience of having a child naturally will demand that each one be scored, however brief its life and whatever its character.

The proposals made regarding Lake Tana involve the construction of a dam which may cost $20,000,000 and take at least three years to complete. By means of the dam and pumping stations, the would-be concessionaires expect to increase the outflow from the lake into the Blue Nile, not only assuring an adequate water supply for Expyt and the Sudan, but making possible the cultivation of thousands of acres nov arid.

I am informed the government, which studied the proposals carefully, considers this the most satisfactory solution of the vexatious Tana problem which for generations has been a bone of contention for London, Cairo, Khartoum, Addis Ababa and New York. The opinion has prevailed that, without its waters, Exppt and the Sudan might perish.

Rickett said the Ethiopian undertaking is easier than a similar one in Mesopotamia. There is an old Ethiopian proverb: "If you roll an egg from Geludia. It will find its resting place on the Gulf of Aden." That means it is downhill nearly all the way, so very little pumping would be required on the proposed pipeline.

I asked Rickett if the development of the oil fields would proceed if Italy declared war. He replied:

"Yes. War or no war, we are going ahead as fast as possible."

I said Mussolini had been quoted as having said Italy would respect all British empire rights and asked Rickett if he considered the concession granted an American corporation would be similarly respected.

"Absolutely," he answered.

Rickett added Britain recognized the emperor's sole jurisdiction over the waters of Lake Tana and it is up to him to enter whatever arrangement he considers best for the future of his country.

As he boarded a special airplane provided by the emperor, he said:

"I should like to say to Mussolini, who is an old friend, there is plenty of room for Italy to participate in the exploitation of such an hospitable land as Ethiopia without resorting to war." He explained he had had relations with Italy in connection with

St. Louis Breaks Up Ninth Inning Detroit Rally.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30.—(P)—While the rest of the American league idled, the St. Louis Browns upset league-leading Detroit, 8 to 7, by stopping a belated Tiger drive after staging a late-inning rally of their own.

After overcoming an early handicap, Rogers Hornsby's tail-enders broke a 6-all deadlock in the eighth with two runs when Hogsett, who replaced Tommy Bridges on the mound, weakened and filled the bases with two walks and a high throw to first. Not our ladies. I should say not. I am all squared away in defense of the shriller sex in our town.

One of the major league clubs has just discontinued the weekly feature of "ladies' day" because, forsooth, the ladies made too much noise.

They made the players nervous, so the report said, with their constant shrilling on every play whether it was a fly ball, an infield out or an error. The players, listening to the shrilling, got so jittery they began to play badly.

Last night I listened. There was one lady over in the left section of the grand stand whose voice was shriller than a band saw going through an oak tree. There was one in the front boxes whose shrill sounded like the brakes on your car when you slam on the emergency as the lady driver ahead of you turns left instead of right as she had indicated.

There was one over in the right section of the grand stand whose shrill cheer on each play bounded off the ear drums like the shrieks of the lost souls. Just behind home plate there was a lady whose shrill greeting for each play rang on the auditory nerves like the sound of wind through the broken wings

ABILITY PLUS COURAGE.

It would require no heavyweight punch to knock over the faithful Atlanta baseball fan this morning.

After a double-header Thursday night and a ladies' night game last evening, a well-directed cream puff or a strawberry tart would flatten him flatter than a punch from Jack Dempsey's fist.

But we can take it, we fans. We've rooted the Crackers well into the lead and we intend to keep them there. It is with regret that we see them on their way to stiffen those Nashvilles up there in Sulphur Dell.

There was some talk around our town for a while that the Crackers were lucky. But that's no dice. A baseball team collegiate tournament.

Bryan M. Grant Jr., diminutive Atdoesn't stay lucky for more than a series or for a couple at most.

This ball club has gone this far on its merits. It isn't, man for man, a collection of stars. There likely isn't more than a man or so, if any, the major leagues would look upon with a fond gaze. There isn't a great slugger on the team. There is good pitching but there are other pitchers about the league just as good. There is no outstanding star.

And that, I think, is the answer. The boys happen to be well balanced. They like to play baseball. They are, being rest of the favored women have easy professionals, interested in winning first place because it means a little money. They want to win the play-offs because it will mean Dixie series money. And they honestly want to win for another reason—the Atlanta fans. The manner in which the Tiger Players mean Dixie series money. And they honestly want to win for fans have turned out this season has won them completely. They like Atlanta—as who doesn't?

The new attendance goal is 350,000. I want to make this thing emphatic. The present count of about 310,000 isn't

This is the year for the Atlanta fans to set a record which only they can break. And then we will have us a little private party next year to see whether we will break our own record or not. I rather think we will.

Having bent in an ear on this and that, I know that plans are afoot to give us an even better ball club next year. So let's give our town a real mark at which to shoot-one of our own.

ADDITIONAL SEATS NEXT YEAR.

Next year there will be new stands in the park. Our citizens are peculiar. They do not care to sit themselves down on the sole of their Sunday suits on the turf and watch a baseball game. They want seats. And none can blame them. Of course, this year we've had to take it. But the owners are appreciative. There was no chance to build this year. The large section of new stands for the games of last we? night and Thursday helped out.

Next season there will be at least 5,000 extra seats for the Next season there will be at least 5,000 extra seats for the customers. As soon as the citizens of our town get a park with enough seats crowds of 30,000 and 35,000 will be no novelty the 'jitteriness' all gone. Experience, at all. But we like to set our baseball records sitting down.

LONG, FUZZY EARS.

The ears of the boys who suggested that a good professional football team would take apart any college team in the land are a bit long and fuzzy after Thursday night.

The Chicago Bears, best of the pro teams, scored a field goal and a safety to win from the college all-stars in the game at Chicago on the evening referred to. In 1934 the Bears managed to tie a similar college eleven.

Now, the Bears had almost a month of hard work at a training camp. They were able to step right back into their old plays, their old system. It fitted like the old felt hat left over from last winter. It was no trouble to renew their game.

The college all-stars were selected from a number of colleges where different systems were played. They had the same amount of training the Bears had. But they were all new to the day. A double by Medlock, a pass-the style of play demanded and could not be expected to genthe style of play demanded and could not be expected to generate any great amount of cohesion or team play in that time. The odds were all with the Bears.

The Bears, able to hire all-stars, were just as much a collection of all-stars as the all-stars themselves. And they were older and more experienced.

From all indications it would seem that a good college team, say Alabama's of last year, would have been able to beat any of the good pro teams of last year with each given a season

Our Deepest Sympathy Atlanta was a saddened city yesterday as news of the death of Earl Mann's father reached the people of Atlanta. The popular president of the Atlanta baseball club, who began his baseball career as a vendor of peanuts in the park where he now is president, has attained a popularity which few men connected with baseball possess. It is a well-merited success, having come to him because of his genial disposition, his ready understanding of human problems and his sense of humor. Plus, of course, his ability as a baseball man.

His father, who died after being struck by an automobile following the night double-header Thursday, lived to see his son attain this success; saw him win hundreds of loyal friends and admirers. His last years were comforted by this knowledge.

The Atlanta Constitution extends to Earl Mann and his family its sincere sympathy in his loss and sends with it also the sympathy of many baseball fans who called to ask that sympathy be extended.

Marshall Verner, former Oglethorpe lineman, staged an upset Friday afternoon on the Y. M. C. A. court in the opening round of the annual "Y" handball tournament. Verner defeated Fred Cole Jr., former champion nad runner-up last year. The scores were 22-20, 7-21, 21-19.

Although he was beaten Friday, Cole remains in the running for the title and will have to win his way through the losers' bracket back to the championship match.

Another round of the championship flight will be played next week, starting Monday afternoon.

Schmidt Routed in First Inning; Crowd of 5,391 Sees Game.

By Jimmy Jones.

At Milnar, the Pelicans' pitching

Ai Milnar, the Pelicans' pitching powerhouse, came very near putting on a one-man show last night as New Orleans and the Crackers finished their three games of skirmishing at Pone de Leon park.

The strapping sophomore of Larry Gilbert's staff was forced to be content with a draw, however, since the game ended in a 4-4 tie, the game being called at the end of the seventh inning by agreement for the Crackers to take a train to Nashville.

GOOD FINISH.

It took some tall pitching by Milnar to keep the Crackers from making it three straight. And the big Slavic boy, who recently scored 17 straight wins to set a new league record, was just about the difference between defeat and victory for his team.

He got off to a bad start, being inclined to wildness in the first inning when the Crackers nicked him for three runs. But as the game progressed, he began to blast the ball in there with plenty of smoke and an exploding curve which had the Crackers doing plenty of gymnastics trying to get their bats around.

Milnar gave the Crackers only four hits and struck out eight men. But his early streak of wildness got him away to a poor start.

away to a poor start. KEEPS SLATE CLEAN. Thus Atlanta kept its slate clean in the last series of the regular playing season with the Pelicans by winning two and losing none in the series.

The teams will meet in the Shaughnessey play-off, of course, and we are destined to see some more of Mr. Milnar and his flaming fast one.

1 EEP FOUR-GAME LEAD. When the Pelicans departed, the Crackers still held their four-game advantage, which is a pretty good lead at this stage of the race. They had a two-game lead when the Pels came here and by taking the double-header Thursday night, increased & to four.

His new record averages at 92 miles per hour, going in and out of four turns and blazing down the straightaways.

And still there are those who believe they can take the pole away from Gardner. They include Ken Fowler, Maynard Clark, Floyd Davis and Buster Warke.

The first three may do it, but inasmuch as Warke's car will not be here until onday, no matter how fast he qualifies he will have to sit behind the boys who clock their miles Sunday, according to the AAA ruling. Floyd O'Neall is another driver who can not get here until Monday and down the ball away, whipped the ball past third, trying the first street and he ran into trouble right off.

Only Arthur Hendrix, of Lakeland, No. 1, and Jimmy Halverstadt, of Atlanta, former city champion, No. 8, managed to survive among the seeded stars in the men's singles, besides Boland.

Brickwall Boland, steady as a rock, was seeded No. 7. It has long been the consensus of opinion hereabouts that he could place his backhand shots on a dime, so to speak. And, he was never better than yesterday. Boland showed, in defeating Courts in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, that he might have one weakness in an otherwise brilliant game. He might be short in volleying, but he is long in everything else.

The triumph put the fourth-place Pirates only six games behind the pace setters, whose margin over the idle New York Giants was reduced to a single game with their second loss here.

While Red Lucas duplicated Jim Weaver's Thursday feat of holding the Cards to seven hits, Floyd Vaughan, league leading hitter, established a new Pirate record by belting his 19th home run of the season. Paul Waner cracked out four blows, including a pair of timely triples, in five times up. LOCKOUTS 16: TRAVELERS 0.

LITTLE ROCK. Ark., Aug. 30.—Chattandooga's Lockouts made a race track out of Little Rock's Travelers' field today as the visitors bombarded four Peb hurlers for 23 reafeties and a 16-to-0 victory in the only game of a scheduled double-header.

The second game was called in the third to allow Chattanooga to catch a train. The visitors were leading the Travelers, 2 to 0, when the tussle was halted.

Cohen let the Travelers down with three hits first game and whiffed six batters. The Lockouts had a field day at that when the condition to the condition to

KENNESAW LEAGUE.

The Kennesaw league plays its last scheduled series this afternoon. For the second half Marietta, Aragon and Dalias seem to be about equal, each having lost three games, while the first half results in a three-way tie between Sugar Hill, Carteraville and Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills. It is a bit unusual for the title in a league to be in dispute between six teams after the playing season has finished. Sugar Hill and Carteraville meet each other in a very important game Saturday, but it will not concern the first half title unless the managers agree to stake their title claim on that game. Other games this week are at Marietta and Crabapple.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A LITTLE SATURDAY TALK.

The long summer vacation is almost over for millions of boys and girls; and before long they will be back in school.

It would be interesting to me if I could gather in one place all the young readers of these words, and take a vote on this question, "Are you glad that schools days are near?"

How would the vote come out?

That is what I should like to know; but if I may judge by talks I have had with some boys and girls, there would be many—perhaps the great majority—who would vote "Yes."

Summer vacation is fun, and it is well for pupils to have a period when they can read and play as they choose; but after vacation lasts for a long period, we are likely to become a little restless and to want to go back to more active progress.

Present-day schools, as a rule, are not the dry, dull places which we are told they were in the old days of "reading and 'riting and 'ritin

Shore and Inland Clam Bakes Are Equally Popular. By FLORENCE La GANKE.

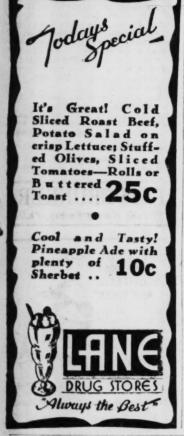

Lacev girls were invited to a abor Day clam bake. Some of the Labor Day clam bake. Some of the boys who had spent a few summers at the shore knew all the tricks of the bake, or at least so they said. The group decided to prepare the bake themselves so they went to the shore four hours before it was time for the meal. They hunted fairly large flat stones and heated them for two hours under a roaring bonfire. That is, they dug a hole in the ground, put the stones in and put the fire on top of them. At the end of two hours they raked out the embers and covered the hot stones with wet seaweed. the hot stones with wet seaweed. Then they put in a layer of soft shell clams, plenty of them. On top of them went sweet potatoes, roasting ears of corn, quarters of chicken and then more clams. Over these went wet then more clams. Over these went wet seaweed. Te whole thing was corered with four or five layers of heavy burlap. This kept the steam in and the steam did the cooking. At the end of two hours the burlap was removed, the seaweed was taken out and the meal was ready. The clams were opened by the individual members who dipped the clams into melted butter. Chicken was eaten with the fingers. Melted butter went on the corn.

For dessert they had well-chilled

One of the boys told of the way he had seen a clam bake prepared in-

For dessert they had well-chilled

The chickens had been cleaned and The chickens had been cleaned and cut into halves as for broiling. This was done by the butcher. Into the bottom of the boiler went the chickens, cut side down. Then on top of the chickens was the corn, left on the cob but well husked and freed from silk. Next went in well-scrubbed sweet potatoes. Then went plenty of clams washed but left in the shell. Nancy told her hostess to count on at least 30 clams per person. On top of the clams went corn husks, a thick layer. On top of those went some strips of bacon and one sweet pota-

steam corn. The clams were steamed open and their delicious juice seeped through to the bottom of the boiler making everything well flavored. When the test potato on top of the husks was done the bake was ready. The clams were put into huge bowls, Each guest took out clams from the opened shell and dipped them into melted butter. The performance was a drippy one, but the food was good enough to warrant any messiness. The clam bake was a great success.

Friendly Counsel By CAROLINE CHATFIELD Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this rolumn. Correspondence invited. Four name held in confidence. Write Miss

There is a lily in my garden that in early spring pushes its pale green spears through the winter packed ground. During the spring and summer months it "adds cubits to its stature" until it has sent up a sturdy stalk some four or five feet high. This is in preparation for the miracle of blossoming. When the preparation is completed, green sheathes unfold and out come flowers of fairy whiteness and fairy form. Their fragrance ness and fairy form. Their fragrance is so strong that it permeates the garden. This plant grows wild along some southern streams and myriads of the butterfly flowers bloom and die without being seen, smelled and admired by human beings. However, many of them find their way into gar-dens where they are tended with lov-ing care

So it is with a young girl. From her carly youth she is preparing for the miracle of love. Her mind is broadening; her heart is swelling; her imagination is reaching up and out toward the purpose for which she was created; marriage, motherhood, the completed life. Instinct, home training, education, association with people, reading, talking, dreaming, all go into the preparation. And when it is finish she, as the lilies, stands to be admired. Sometimes her sweetness is wasted on desert air. There is no tragedy more pitiable and none more common.

Why is it? Nobody has ever given satisfactory explanation. Not enough men to go around, say some. This is true; but there are women who have one husband after another. When they one husband after another. When they are released from marriage by death or divorce they soon set out to locate number two, or number three. Judging by the speed with which they locate and laud men, one might suppose they are guided by the sort of swift, sure instinct that guides the martin to his gourd.

Many girls never have opportu-Many girls never have opportu-nity to meet marriageable men, say some. Certainly this is true; but there are girls who make opportu-nities for themselves. If they were stranded on desert islands with one man a day's swim from them, some-how they would get across the sep-arating water, guided by instinct and strengthened by a purpose so strong that they couldn't sink.

Many girls are tied at home by a Many girls are fied at home by a stern sense of duty to dependent parents, say others. They forego marriage temporarily without dreaming that they have let the last train pull out of the station. When a spinster of 60 manages to catch a luxurious express and embark on the long journey, one doubts if there is such a thing as a last train for women.

There are those who argue that many girls know too much about men ever to sign up with one. They have seen too much of unhappy married life to hazard the trip to the altar. This won't go down because there are girls reared in homes where fathers and mothers have led where fathers and mothers have led where fathers and mothers have led cat and dog lives, who are quick to get husbands and homes of their own. Having seen how wrangling and quarreling, fussing and fight-ing will destroy the pleasure in life they manage to "keep peace and pursue it."

There are also thou-sands of dainty, adorable bits of femininity that are gentle and kind, those who tread softly, speak with purring voices, blush easily, look out out of wistful eyes; yet the men pass them by and they remain unmarried.

Here's a pretty little washing frock, so simple to put together that daugh-ter can sew it herself. The softly gath-ered bodice ends in cool flared sleeves, so does away with any sleeve diffi culties.

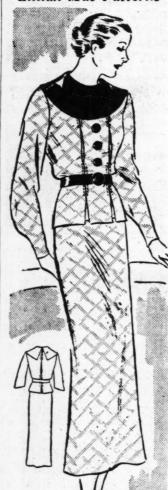

The original in red and batiste print, was simply adorable. The shirtwaist collar of crisp white organdie, was accented by navy gros-grain ribbon.

Other nice suggestions for it are dotted swiss, checked tissue gingham, dotted voile, striped lawn, etc.

Somewhat light, but justifiable in view of the condition of the score.

With a stronger hand and a fifth spade, North might have used the void-showing convention. Weak as he was in high cards, however, he decided to bid what must unquestionably be his opponents' suit in the effort to secure the contract as cheanly as possible.

Charged with stealing $600 worth of silverware from two homes, Alex Buther, alias Jack Buther, was indicted for burglary yesterday by the July-August grand jury.

Buther, or Buther, is alleged to have broken into the residences of H. L. Collier and R. M. Crumley. His loot included many spoons, forks, knives and silver dishes.

By careful play, declarer had no difficulty in making his contract. West opened the king of clubs and shifted to a low heart, although a diamond lead would have proven better defense. South could not afford to let this run, since if East should have the acc, it meant a sure set on a club return, whereas trumping apparently insured the contract. He therefore ruffed in dummy, being careful at the same time dummy, being careful at the same time to trump with the ten-spot. Returning to his hand with the queen of diamonds, he led the nine of spades. West played low and the previoust unblock allowed South to hold the trick with the nine.

A low spade was now led and the jack finessed, followed by the play of the king. The second diamond lead was won by South's ace, the last trump drawn, on which a club was discarded from dummy, and the jack of diamonds overtaken by the king, enabling dummy to score the two remaining diamonds. West won the last two tricks, but these were not enough to defeat the contract.

WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for John Jordan, an employe of the Atlantic Steel Company for 18 years, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the North Atlanta Baptist church with the Revs. T. J. Tribble, George N. McLarty and Arthur Maness officiating.

Mr. Jordan died Thursday at the residence, 1154 Hemphill avenue, N. E. He was 72. Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. W. D. Miles; a son, Otis Jordan; two sisters, Mrs. Nancy Peyton and Mrs. W. E. G. Watts, of Hollingsworth, Ga., and several grandchildren. Burial will be in Crest Lawn cemetery, with H. M. Patterson & Son in charge.

Mr. Culbertson will send to any ceader who will enclose a self-ad-dressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope with his request, a booklet containing the new rules, discussing changes in the rules and discussing the etiquette of Contract. The request should be addressed to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

AL CAPONE ASSESSED $120,000UNPAID TAXES

Justice Department Expert Says U. S. May Recover From Syndicate.

One of the most difficult problems in the game of contract bridge is to decide when to refuse to allow partner's penalty double to stand. This is difficult enough in ordinary hands, but when a part-score has further complicated the early bidding, the dilemma is intensified.

In today's hand the progress of the bidding, including his own contribution, warned North he could not let his partner's penalty double stand. When it became East's turn to make a similar decision, he lacked the courage of his convictions and gave South

Others assessed previously included (Wacey Gordon) Wexler, Max Hessler and Morris Greenberg, of New York, and Heine Wainer, of Wisconsin, who is reputed to have battled Capone's "muscling in" along the north shore and in the Wisconsin resort district.

Lawrence's unit, which has assessed about $5,000,000 in taxes on illegal liquor in the past year, devotes a major portion of its time to unsettled accounts of prohibition violators.

Al Capone's lawyer, Michael J. Ahearn, said in Chicago that Capone, now serving an 11-year sentence for income tax evasion, is "supposed to be broke."

But Lawrence retorted that the government is free to collect the entire tax from any one of the syndicate who has money. Tax authorities have the right to seize the property of those who refuse to pay.

Prices drifted higher today in quiet stock market dealings which reflected the large number of traders who had "beat the gun" to leave a day early for the Labo: Day week-end.
Utilities and specialties absorbed most of the languid interest, although there was a little mild buying in selected rails. A scattering of pivotal shares gave a little ground, under neglect rather than pressure. Oils were still unsettled by the gasoline and

Trading Volume Dwindles to 181,000 Shares; Operators Begin Holiday. NEW YORK, Aug. 30 .- (A)-Curb NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(F)—Curu market stocks displayed a steady to firm tone today. Trading volume dwindled to 181,000 shares largely as a result of the absence from board rooms of a number of traders who be-gan their holiday early.

Advances of about a point were recorded by American Gas & Electric,
Distillers Corporation-Seagrams, Great
Atlantic & Pacific and Lake Shore.
Fractional upturns prevailed in Sherwin-Williams, Electric Bond & Share.
Hiram Walker, Newmont Mining,
Montgomery Ward "A" and Swift Internacional.

Ols were again a trifle wobbly, with Creole Petroleum, Gulf and International Petroleum averaging 1-2 of a point lower at the finish.

Bank Clearings

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Bank clearings again show a very large gain. The total for the 22 leading cities in the United States for the week ended Wednesday, August 28, as reported by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., was 34,555.636,000, against $3,622.921,000 a year ago, an increase of 25.5 per cent. For the preceding week the advance was 21.4 per cent. At New York city, clearings were $2,992,664,000, an increase of 31.6 per cent over the amount reported last year, while the aggregate for centers outside of New York city or $1,562,972,000 was 15.8 per cent higher.

The increase continued mainly at New York city and was due, in part, to the heavy losses reported a year ago. Clearings also were substantially ago. Clearings also were substantially higher at other points, every city contributing to the gain shown. The larger increases were at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Richmond. Atlanta, Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnat, Louisville, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

The total for the fourth week of The total for the fourth week of August this year was $531.352,000 below that for the preceding week, whereas for the same two weeks of last year the reduction was $568,286.000. Clearings for the final week of August usually are close to the lowest of the year. For the month the amount is well up with that for the earlier months of the year, and above the total for the corresponding period back to 1931. Clearings for August, 1934, were the lowest in any month for many years.

Figures at leading centers, compared with those of a year ago, are printed herewith; also, daily bank clearings for this year to date:

Ocober was lower, with other options showing small net gains.

An uncertain price trend was noted during the entire session as prices backed and filled in a narrow range, half of the time being under previous closing levels and the remainder of the trading period being lodged behind plus signs. NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—(P)— Secretary Plauche's New Orleans Cot-ton Exchange statement for the first 30 days of the season, issued today shows an increase in the movement into sight in round figures of 142,000 over the 30 days ending this date last Hedging pressure again appeared in light volume and centered on the October option. This month sagged to 10.37, then recovered to close 2 points lower at 10.39. Final prices of 10.41 for December, 10.44 for January and 10.53 for May, represented small net gains. small net gains.

Washington was still silent on certain points in the new crop loan and payment plan. The trade is eager to know just how the grower of premium trade will make out under the 10-cent plan, as well as how large a reduc-tion in acreage is being planned for the 1936-37 season.

SLIGHT RISE RECORDED Nervousness in U. S. Government Securities Unsettles Ma et. Daily Bond Averages. By G. A. PHILLIPS. NEW YORK. Aug. 30.—(P)—The nervousness of United States government securities today kept the bond market on edge, although the majority of corporate loans managed to creep higher. Yesterday's recovery in the federal list was extended moderately in early dealings. Selling, however, subsequently appeared and a number of the more active issues were down around half a point at one time. Some support arrived in the final hour and several issues managed to cancel declines and emerge with small advances. Heaviest transactions were in the Treasury 27-8s, which finished 6-32ds down. Other losses ranged from 2-32ds to 10-32ds while the final gains amounted the 2-32ds to 6-32ds. The turnover in the government department was not quite as large as in Thursday's proceedings, some $2.940,000 of the federals changing hands against $4,600,000. By G. A. PHILLIPS.

Thursday's proceedings, some $2,940,000 of the federals changing hands against $4,600.000.

The confusion in the government section was attributed by some dealers to expectations of holders that the Treasury may continue to offer long-term issues at auction. Doubts as to the Treasury's exchange offer to holders of fourth Liberty $41-4s were also thought to have influenced part of the early liquidation.

Another rally of Italian obligations was the feature of the foreign division. Italian government 7s advanced 2 points to 58. Rome 61-2s were up 35-8 at 493-4 and Milan 61-2s recovered $43-4$ at 493-8.

There were several substantial gainers in the corporate groups. Among these were Interborough Rapid Transit 6s, up 1 3-8 at 73 7-8; International Hydro-Electric 6s, up 1 1-4 at 49 1-4; Nickel Plate 4 1-2s, up 1 at 61 and Paramount-Publix 5 1-2s, up 1 at 105. Other improvement of fractions to around a point was shown by some bonds of Great Northern, New York Central, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, Illinois Steel, Peoples Gas, Union Pacific, American Water Works, Columbia Gas, Western Union, Chile Copper, Remington Rand and United States Rubber.

Transfers of all bonds amounted to States Rubber.

Transfers of all bonds amounted to only $8,862,600 compared with Thursday's aggregate of $10,785,000. The Associated Press averages for the ralls, industrials and utilities finished. 1 to .2 of a point higher.

S83-4, while corn was 1-8 to 1-2 higher, December 57 to 571-8. Oats lost 1-8 to 1-2, rye 7-8 to 11-8, and barley was 2 cents down to 1-2 up. Cash interests were credited with bidding up September corn a cent above the previous close at one time. The new crop months firmed in sympathy, reflecting, too, fears of frost. Provisions were about steady.

CRAIN OPINIONS.

FENNER & BEANE—The cash situation continues atrong and with bullish September estimates likely, we do not think it would take much buying to make a fair rally.

BEER & CO.—Our domestic situation, from a statistical standpoint, continues bellish, and believe that ultimately the market will respond to this situation.

COURTS & CO.—Not much change from the present state of inaction is expected until after the Monday holiday.

DOBBS & CO.—We still feel that the market will get good support on all slight reactions, but breader speculative interest and consumer demand may be necessary to cause advance.

Rain Disperses Mob.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Aug. 30.—(A)
A crowd of 200 men dispersed in a downpour of rain before dawn today after milling for several hours before the Cumberland county jail containing Romain Johnson, 32, negro accused of slaying a housewife with an ax. Thirty state, county and local police stood guard at the prison all night to prevent any attempt to lynch the suspect.

WHEAT PRICES DECLINE | Market Outlook | INCREASE IN PAY ROLLS DOLE FOR 31 STATES Market Outlook (Copyright, 1983, by the United Press.) NEW YORK, Ang. 30.—(UP)— The stock market continued in preholiday atmosphere as traders consideered industrial situations. Volume of trading today dropped to 830,000 shares with the list moving narrowly to close irregularly higher. Oils furnished the weak spot and the industry furnished one of the big question marks for industry. When the Standard Oil Company of California this week announced 50-60 cents a barrel reduction in prices paid for several types of crude, it started a movement which may give considerable repercussion. Several other companies in the California district have followed suit. The slack season for gasoline sales —which have been running excellentity this year—begins immediately after Labor Day when summer motoring ends. It always is the nervous peserving for price structures both for crude and raw gasoline. In New England some independents outside the cities are selling two to three cents a gallon under the price charged by major companies. California oil well production has California oil well pro cities are selling two to three cents a gallon under the price charged by major companies.

California oil well production has increased to the point that producers feel will bring another oversupply. Marketing companies feel that reduction of the price for crude automatically will mean curtailment of productions.

The total number angainst $41,902,874 the month before and $34,913,521 in July a year ago. Operations were at 39.44 per cent of capacity, compared with 40.31 per cent in June and 27.06 per cent in July, 1934.

As the end of this thrilling contest approaches we want to make this recommendation to each entrant: Be leisurely about submitting your solutions. Even though picture No. 80, the last of the series, will appear Monday, September 2, sets do not have to be brought or mailed in before Saturday, September 14. These days of grace can be profitably devoted to rechecking titles and making changes wherever necessary.

DAILY SHORT STORY-

YOUNG DOCTOR

He Had to Make His Choice Between Service in the Slums and a Clientele in Park Avenue.

By ANITA JARDINE.

Young Dr. Carter paced slowly back and forth in the spacious reception room. His mind was a tumult of thoughts which tortured him with their insistence for an answer. He had to decide immediately the weighty question that would indicate how he was to spend the remainder of his life and he could not reach a conclusion. In his imagination there was the vision of little Johnny McCarthy, who had waved to him that morning from his second floor tenement winfrom his second floor tenement win-

"Hi, Doc," he had said. "The old" legs are coming along great, thanks to you,"

Yes, it had been because of his own magical power to heal and cure that Johnny would run and play ball again, that the lines of pain left old Mr. Klein's face, that little Sadle Baumgartner could see again. By accomplishing such things as these he had won their confidence and trust, yes, even their devotion.

And now, was he going to leave them? Was he going to let these people down, who depended on him so utterly, or was he going to bid farewell to security, success, fame, and Novel Plea Is Offered By Man Seeking Parole A new wrinkle in reasons why someone inside the federal pen at Atlanta believes he should be on the outside was revealed in federal district court ysterday by Leroy Talbert, recently of the Mississippi delta country.

Stripped of its legal verbiage, Talbert's argument is this.

bert's argument is this:

He was arrested in Mississippi sentenced to two years in the pen, but that sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation five and he was placed on probation five years.

He got drunk and violated the prohibition law and was sent to the pen for the prison term without being called to court and being given a chance to defend himself.

He charges now that because he was not present when his parole was revoked, that action is void. And because the prohibition law has been repealed he cannot be sentenced on that score.

So, he wants out.

Texan Predicts Reduction Through Operation of Utility Measure.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—47.
Lower bills for the country's elec-tricity users as a result of the utility control law were predicted tonight by Chairman Rayburn, democrat, Texas, WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.-(A)-Chairman Rayburn, democrat, Texas, of the house interstate commerce com-

Rayburn, who guided the controversial legislation through a critical house, contended in a radio speech that the statute would help the investors and save the industry itself. He disputed the claims of those who have indicated they would challenge the act's constitutionality and asserted if it should be held invalid the utility holding companies might as well figure on being taxed "out of existence."

I venture to predict," Rayburn said, "that as a result of the said, "that as a result of the power commission's rate survey and of this legislation, very substantial rate reductions will occur in the future.

"It was a battle against the biggest and boldest, the richest and most ruthless lobby.

gest and boldest, the richest and most ruthless lobby congress has ever known." he said of the pre-enactment right. "That lobby was a professional, mercenary army long trained in what it was paid to do. It was the mobilization against congress and the President of contingents which the utility interests have kept under arms for many years in every state legislature. "One result of our victory, I hope, may be the permanent destruction of the lobby."

He suggested that "the good work of the lobby investigation, which will be con-tinued into the next session of congress, out to do the rest.

"Some die-hards among the utilities are boasting that they will defy the act and have it nullified as unconstitutional," Rayburn said. "Bug don't be deceived. The act was reviewed by the best legal talent available to the government; it has been declared constitutional by declared constitutional by so great a constitutionalist as Senator Boraha and it is constitutional."

As Michael nodded his consent the doctor handed him some blueprints.

"While you're waiting, take a look at these prints. What do you think of that for a hospital?" he asked.

Michael gazed in awe at the papers in his hand.

"It's wonderful," he said, and his mind flew to the Johnny McCarthys and the Sadies of Green street.

"I wanted to tell you about this," said the doctor. "I am getting to be an old man, with much more money than I could ever hope to spend, and I want to leave something behind me after I am gone that will accomplish a few of the things that I could not do myself. Sheila had spoken to me of you.

"I will build this as a charity hospital on Green street—in the very heart of the poor district. I will place you in charge there, where you will be able to care for those people who need you far better than you ever could have done otherwise. And Michael, this way you will be able to give Sheila the necessary comforts of life, which, after all, are all that she asks.

"She loves you much more than luxury, my boy. Give her the chance to tell you so herself as she told me over the phone a few moments ago. She's waiting for you in the reception room now."

NARCOTICS OBTAINED IN PHARMACY THEFT

Burglars who smashed a window in the Terrace Pharmacy, 613 Peachtree street, early yesterday morning, obtained an undetermined amount of narcotics and a small amount of cash, police were informed. In another robbery early yesterday morning of the Hotel, Restaurant & Supply Company, 382 West Peachtree street, thugs used tools beloming to the firm to force open a safe from which they took $55 in currency. A cash box in the safe was overlooked by the burglars, R. D. King, president of the company, told police.

The thieves entered the establishment by forcing open a rear window. The offices were ransacked, but a check revealed that nothing else had been taken.

BELEM, PARA, Brazil, Aug. 6.—
This morning we met the American gray structure of four stories boasting the only elevator in the city, for a visit to the Governor of the state of Para. A taxi of Belem, which in this case was an American touring car made in the early twenties, carried us over the uneven cobblestone streets to the Palacio do Governador.

This the first of the Governor of the state of Para and the city for a visit to the Covernor of the state of Para and the country of the state of Belem, which in this case was an American touring car made in the early twenties, carried us over the uneven cobblestone streets to the Palacio do Governador.

The Rev. Dr. W. M. Thompson, a native of Virginia and for 45 years a resident in Brazil, served as interpreter. The formalities being concluded, I proposed the inquiry: "What do you expect of the future of cotton in this state?" He replied that he thought this state should give all attention possible to the cultivation of the carled "white gold," since rubber, their standby, has large the uneven cobblestone streets to the Palacio do Governador.

This morning we met the American Malcher greeted us with the gracious hospitality that is typical of Brazilians generally. This affable gentleman, 65 years old, an attorney by profession and a politician by choice, apparently governs wisely and well.

The Rev. Dr. W. M. Thompson, a resident in Brazil, served as interpreter. The formalities being concluded, I proposed the inquiry: "What do you expect of the future of cotton in this state?" He replied that he thought this state should give all attention possible to the cultivation of cotton, which he called "white gold," since rubber, their standby, has large from three to five years. He was freed to parole in 1924 and in granting from three to five years. He was freed to parole in 1924 and in have not done much with it. The laborers put sand and stones in the cotton when they brought it in to sell. Evidently they sell the cotton directly to the ginning company. This extraneous matter caused much trouble at the laborer in the county commission, said and made it necessary for the county commission, said the county commission and the county co gin and made it necessary for government to appoint inspectors examine and classify all cotton. Progress Is Slow.

As yet they have not done much towards producing "white gold." The second question was asked: "What developments do you expect in the Amazon basin?" He answered that it should be rapid but the great need was capital and heavy taxes made this uncertain. Lack of co-operation between governmental agencies and betw capital has been a great handicap. He made special mention of the potential sale of fish from this region.

The next question: "What do you think of the New Deal in the United States?" To this he replied that he had been so busy since the fourth of last May receiving people and trying to keep things in order in his own state until he had had no time to seriously consider what was going on riously consider what was going on Day.
